

Truman Appeal To Legion

Wants All Facts
Placed Before
People in 1952
Political Drive

NEW YORK (AP)—President Truman today urged the American Legion to help "put all the facts before the people" in the present political campaign.

The presidential message was read by National Commander Donald R. Wilson at the opening session of the Legion's 34th annual convention in Madison Square Garden.

"In our country, the people have an opportunity to determine their own destiny by deciding the vital issues at the ballot box," the President said. "I ask the Legion to help America choose wisely by seeing that all the facts are put before the people in free and fair debate."

Dewey Gives Welcome

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, welcoming the legion, praised it for its efforts in behalf of universal military training.

The President Truman's message said in part:

"This is my last message to you from the White House. In less than five months the duties of the presidency will be behind me. As a citizen and Legionnaire, however, I shall still be working for the purpose I have striven for as President—an America at peace within itself, secure in the world, serving as a guide and bulwark for all men and nations who cherish freedom and decency.

"Despite passing reverses and discouragements, we have been making real headway on this course in recent years. Yet much remains to be done. I know that the American Legion—in the future as in the past—will play an indispensable part in our efforts to reach these goals. x x x

Help America Choose

"In our country, the people have an opportunity to determine their own destiny by deciding the vital issues at the ballot box. I ask the Legion to help America choose wisely by seeing that all the facts are put before the people in free and fair debate."

And through the campaign let us remember that the things that make us a nation are far more numerous and infinitely more precious than the things that separate us into parties."

Dewey told the delegates—expected to reach a total of 30,000 before the convention ends Thursday—that the Legion should continue its drive to enact U. M. T. if the nation is to keep strong.

"If the United States had followed the advice of the American Legion," Dewey said, "we would not have been caught naked at Pearl Harbor."

The New York governor declared the legion had fought subversive forces within the nation "when it was considered silly by many to recognize the threat from within."

Salute to Fight on Reds

"For your magnificent fight on Communism I salute you," he said. "You will help save America from her enemies from without as well as those from within."

Mayor Vincent Impellitteri welcomed the legion to the city and urged the veterans to do all in their power to see that a large vote is cast in the forthcoming presidential elections.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican presidential candidate, addressed the Legion later today. The Democratic candidate, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, will address the convention Wednesday.

Queen Mother Buys 'Haunted' Castle As Summer Home

LONDON (AP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth has bought a remote Scottish castle—built in 1606 and reputed to be haunted—for use as a summer home.

The picturesque, 40-room Barroch castle stands on the windswept coast of Caithness only seven miles from John O'Groats, the northernmost tip of the United Kingdom.

It is 750 miles from London, 13 miles from the nearest railway station, Thurso, and has no telephone, no electricity or central heating. The Queen's only neighbors will be a few tenant farmers.

The Weather

Partly cloudy and a little warmer tonight and Tuesday, with a light shower likely early Tuesday. Low tonight near 60. High Tuesday near 85.

RISE IN TEMPERATURE

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 57; 82 at 1 p. m. and 84 at 2 p. m.

On Round-World Flight—

Bryan Reports

Convention of Christian Churches Leaves Impression on Australia; One of Largest Ever Held There

By Rev. David M. Bryan
Pastor of the First Christian Church of Sedalia, Now On Round-the-World Tour.

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—The Fourth World Convention of the Disciples of Christ (Christian Churches) has just concluded in Melbourne. The Melbourne papers claimed that the concluding session in Exhibition Hall was one of the largest church gatherings ever held in that city. Overflowing congregations were the rule throughout. Newspapers and even the taxi drivers here in Sydney, 500 miles away, are most aware that the Christian Church has just held a convention down in Melbourne. The United States was represented by 174 ministers and lay leaders. Twenty-nine countries were represented. It was quite unanimously agreed that this convention was the finest and most significant ever held by this denomination.

President Reg Ennis, of Melbourne, declared in his opening address of the convention that the church of Christ today must live and work in an environment of confusion and chaos. "It is all to the good," he said, "that statesmen, philosophers, economists and writers are seeking a way out of the confusion. But the church today dares to declare, as it always has, that it knows the way out. It dares to believe that Christ's program for life is the solution for the ills of both men and nations." Mr. Ennis then confessed that the church has so far failed to impress the world with its message in any big way. "Men are not yet convinced that the church of Christ has or can substantiate its claims."

Almost the entire convention was given over to a united search for more effective ways to bring the Christian answer to bear on world problems. Here in Australia men and women from all over the world gathered to share in this quest. Rev. Alan Walker, the leading Methodist of Australia, reminded the convention that "Reconciliation is the greatest single need in the world today. The challenge of the church must be for man to be reconciled to man and man to God." He stated the convictions of all when he declared that "unless a new unity can be found our whole civilization will stumble on into darkness until, like civilizations before it, it is destroyed."

It was widely agreed that one of the most significant aspects of the World Convention was the world fellowship it cultivated. In Melbourne, thousands of people from many different lands met and spent a week together getting acquainted, sharing common problems and learning about each other's homeland. Most will visit many foreign lands either enroute to Melbourne or enroute home, or both. All will have established warm friendships with people of other lands and will have developed a more cosmopolitan perspective on the world and her problems. These hundreds of thousands of people will return to their homes with a new understanding and better prepared to speak to the problem of a world that is indeed one.

Outside of the fact of world fellowship, some of the most impressive aspects of the convention, as this observer saw it, were: First, the calm, sane and intelligent approach that these world church leaders made to the problems of the world. Even church leaders from the Far and Middle East were restrained and sane in their analysis of our times and in their presentation of the Christian message to such an age. Everyone seemed to understand that so serious a day requires calm analysis and action other than fanatical demagoguery.

Secondly, I was impressed by the size of the crowds, both local and foreign. Officials said they had never before seen such crowds of people trying to get in the Town Hall auditorium. Hundreds were seated in nearby auditoriums and reach by a public address system.

Thirdly, the hospitality of the Australian people. During my week in Melbourne I was entertained in ten different homes. This was not a planned part of the convention, but just resulted from invitations that came from day to day. An Australian I met on the plane, a wealthy manufacturer, had me in his home for dinner, took me to an exciting Australian football game, and took me to meet the Lord Mayor of Melbourne. Surely the hospitality of these people is unexcelled. All other foreign delegates have similar stories to relate.

And last but not least, I was deeply impressed by the weather. This is the middle of Australian winter, and I have been cold ever since leaving the Fiji Islands. The Fifth World Convention of the Disciples of Christ is scheduled to be held in Toronto, Canada, in 1955. This has been an interesting and significant convention for our church. Every delegate will return home feeling his time and money were well spent.

GOING TO JAPAN — Mrs. Betty Jo Stacy and son, Jeffrey, three years old, left Sedalia with Mrs. Stacy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Tharp, 618 West Sixth, Monday morning for Seattle, Wash., where she and her son will sail for Japan on Sept. 4 to join her husband, Sgt. John R. Stacy.

Mr. and Mrs. Tharp will return to Sedalia by train after their daughter and grandson sail.

Sgt. Stacy, who was the Army recruiting officer in Sedalia before he left for overseas duty a year ago, is stationed near Tokyo and has made arrangements for his family to be with him.

Mrs. Stacy was employed with the County Recorder's office before she left. They expect to arrive in Japan about Sept. 18.

Air Base Report 'Untrue'

Gen. Pick Calls Statement 'Over Critical' of Work Done in No. Africa

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chief of army engineers today termed "over-critical" a scorching Senate report accusing him and other top military men of confusion and waste in the hurry-up building of U. S. air bases in North Africa.

The committee urged Secretary of the Army Pace to "take appropriate action" against Lt. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, the engineers' chief.

Pick got out a statement today saying "I had no responsibility in the determination of the air force requirements in North Africa. It was not my responsibility to direct the construction on a crash (or rush) program basis."

Says Pick Responsible

The armed services preparedness investigation subcommittee, headed by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) made public its report yesterday. It said Pick was responsible for the building job which has cost taxpayers 220 million dollars and is expected eventually to total more than double that amount.

The Johnson committee report said there had been no effective check made on frauds, kickbacks, theft and pilfering. It said, too, that "large-scale loafing, drunkenness, and failure properly to at least duty was rampant at least throughout the initial stages of construction."

Has Not Seen Report

In his statement, Pick said he had not yet seen copies of the report but that "from the newspaper accounts, it would appear that the subcommittee has submitted a generalized report which x x x appears to be over-critical."

"It is," he said, "not unusual for constructors to experience some deficiencies in accomplishing large military construction projects under extreme limits of time. This is what happened in Morocco."

Pick said he had returned eight days ago from an inspection of the North African bases and submitted a report to Pace "which the committee apparently has not seen."

Work Progressing

That report, Pick said, "sets forth a plan for correcting the deficiencies." And, he added: "During my recent visit, I found the work progressing at a highly satisfactory rate. The jobs are well organized and superior quality of work is being accomplished. My determinations were concurred in by the local air force commanders."

New Sentences To Convicts Who Were Hunted Here

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Circuit Judge Sam C. Blair handed out maximum sentences today to three of four escaped convicts who kidnapped a Jefferson City boy and girl last June.

Judge Blair said he thought it was time to get tough in an effort to stop repeated escapes from state prison farms near here. Apparently leniency doesn't work, he commented.

John Hannagan, 19, and Gale Gruner, 17, were kidnapped by the four convicts near the state penitentiary's Church farm last June 22. The convicts released them unharmed at Sedalia and drove away with their car.

Today Judge Blair gave 25-year sentences for car theft to James Richardson, 44, who was serving life for murder from Grundy County; Kenneth Holloway, 41, serving life for murder from Lincoln, Mo.; and Hayden Glenn Sebastian, 33, serving ten years from Boone County for armed robbery.

A 15-year term was imposed on Harry D. Jones, serving five years from Dallas County for armed robbery. In addition, Jones and Sebastian got two years for escaping.

Labor Chief Praises Adlai As Great Leader

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Labor Chief Walter Reuther praised Gov. Adlai Stevenson today as a man who would be a great leader in the White House. But he said Dwight D. Eisenhower didn't have the specialized training needed for the job.

And Farm Leader James Patton said he was convinced Stevenson would run as well in the farm belt as President Truman did in 1948 when the farm vote played an important role in his victory.

Reuther insisted Eisenhower's military training hadn't fitted him for the presidency. "When you need a doctor," Reuther said, "you don't call a plumber."

These views were given to a redentennial nominee made plans to invade New York City Wednesday.

Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers, came here to talk over plans for Stevenson's visit to Michigan Labor Day and particularly his speech in Detroit launching his campaign. The UAW executive board has endorsed Stevenson's candidacy.

LEAVING SEDALIA—Z. Lyle Brown, district manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., who will make his new headquarters in Moberly.

Z. Lyle Brown Being Moved To Moberly

Enlarged Telephone District Has New Headquarters There

Z. Lyle Brown, district manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., and one of Sedalia's most active citizens for the past nine years, will leave here Sept. 2 to make his residence in Moberly, the new headquarters for his enlarged district.

Revision and considerable enlargement has been made in several districts of the telephone firm during the past year, Brown says, and the headquarters of the new district were set up a year ago in Moberly. The central location of that city in the district caused its selection.

Plans are now being completed for the consolidation of all commercial and traffic operations into the new headquarters and the move will also take William C. Jolly, district traffic superintendent, to Moberly.

While he will begin his new work on Sept. 2, Mr. Brown will not move his family there until he has found a home. Mrs. Brown and the two sons, Crosby and Pat, will remain here temporarily.

Sedalia will remain in Mr. Brown's territory and he will be a visitor here often, he reports, adding that Sedalia will always be home to the Brown family.

Such a statement is understandable when the light of the many activities in which Mr. Brown has had a part while in Sedalia. He is vice-president of the Lake of the Ozarks Council of the Boy Scouts of America; a past-president of the Sedalia Rotary Club; director and past-president of the Sedalia Symphony Society; director of Boys Work Council of Pettis County; member of official board of First Methodist Church and chairman of its finance committee; director of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce; member, past-president and past-secretary of Sedalia Men's Choral Club; member of advisory board of Auto Club of Missouri; director of the Pettis County Historical Society; coordinator of UNESCO Pettis County.

Suspect 2 More Sedalians Have Dreaded Polio

Sedalia, it is indicated, has two more polio cases, and the patients have been sent to other hospitals.

Miss Mary Rouchka, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rouchka, 1100 State Fair Boulevard, was taken to the General Hospital in Kansas City Sunday for treatment.

The girl Friday attended the Missouri State Fair, having apparently a most pleasurable time. She was there until the early part of the evening, when she retired, feeling fine but rather tired. Saturday she slept until mid-morning when she developed a chill and on Sunday morning Dr. D. P. Dyer, attending her, had a laboratory test made at the Bothwell Hospital following which she was taken to Kansas City. Her case is reportedly of the bulbar type.

Shirley Madorin, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Madorin, 1425 South Prospect, who became ill at her home, was given a test at the Bothwell Hospital after which she was taken Monday morning to the Mercy Hospital in Kansas City for treatment. The test taken here indicated polio. The child at present is not considered in a real serious condition, but was taken to the Kansas City institution for further diagnosis and observation. She was a patient here of Dr. John Lamy.

Ike Warns Soviet Prepares for War

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower warned today that the Soviet union is preparing for a third World War and said the United States "stands in greater peril than at any time in our history."

He appeared in Madison Square Garden before some 15,000 war veterans who are attending the American Legion convention.

Total Attendance for Week Is 421,601

Missouri's Fair Has Ended, But the Aches Linger On

Only 14,561 Short of New Crowd Record

Despite Many Reverses, Show Does Go Ahead

The Golden Anniversary Missouri State Fair closed Sunday night short of an attendance record, but having proved to Missourians the old adage that "The show must go on." Missouri's "Show Me" motto also provided something to out-of-state visitors when the institution recouped itself following the tornado early Thursday morning and completed the weekend with a good show.

The attendance for the nine days fell short of a record by 14,561. Sunday the attendance was 54,525 compared with 36,350 on the last Sunday of 1951. The total attendance for the nine days of 1952 was 421,601 as compared to the nine days of 1951 when the attendance was a record 436,162.

Had the fair not experienced the disastrous tornado in those early morning hours of Thursday, and morning hours of Thursday, and normal conditions instead of being closed up until late Thursday afternoon, an all-time record no doubt would have been set. The fair would have had to draw no more than the comparison crowd of 69,452 to put this year over the top.

First Lost Hog Show

Amazing as it was, the fair suffered its first setback when the swine show was cancelled because of a quarantine on hogs in Missouri, thus cutting out one of the fair's attractive stock exhibits. Then rain fell Sunday night, which caused the postponement of the Grand Circuit races for Monday. The storm Thursday ended the Grand Circuit schedule as the remainder of the week was cancelled.

In the face of these setbacks, the cooperation of everyone was astounding. Heads of all departments got together and discussed and surveyed the situation early Thursday, deciding to go ahead. Workmen quickly repaired the carnival so it could continue operations; showmen combined their endeavors and arranged a vaudeville show for in front of the grandstand to carry on Friday afternoon, and rebuilt the stage show and not a performance was missed by the Barnes-Carruthers Theatrical Enterprises which presented the Golden Anniversary Stage Show and Musical Revue.

Weekend Programs Held Friday, Saturday and Sunday's programs carried out with revisions, but the Missouri State Fair "showed them."

The exhibits were removed from the grounds Sunday, Sunday night and early this morning, a wrecked, crippled, but not downhearted Cettin-Wilson World on Parade Shows pulled off the grounds and is now headed for their next "stand" at the Indiana State Fair in Indianapolis.

The State Highway Patrol (state fair police) disbanded Sunday night, with only a few men remaining over until noon today after the fair had been practically cleared of all exhibitors, concessionaires and shows.

Two Grand Champions

Sedalia had two grand champion blue ribbon winners in the baking division of the Home Economics Department at the Missouri State Fair: Mrs. George Landess, route 3, Sedalia, 16 blue ribbons, and Mrs. W. A. Korando, 1410 South Beacon, Sedalia, seven blue ribbons. Mrs. Ervin Moon, Glensted, won six blue ribbons.

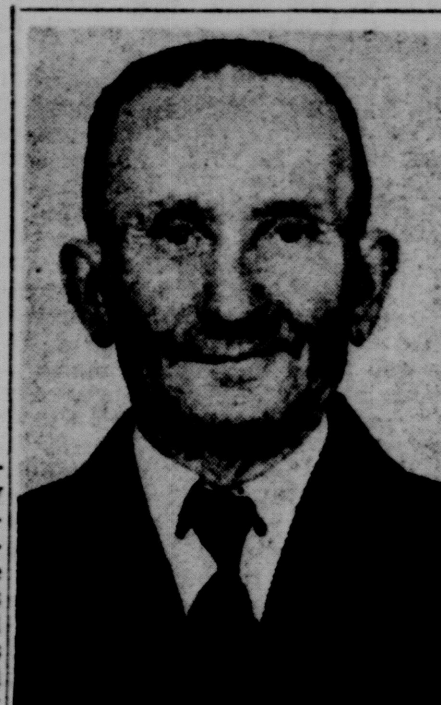

The hotel is situated on east 42nd St. in the heart of downtown Manhattan. The Republican candidate's staff here occupies 25 rooms on the sixth floor.

Eisenhower, on leave as president of Columbia, also has campaign headquarters in Denver, Colo., and Washington, D. C.

"I feel fine, wonderful," the general declared as he left his residence on the Columbia University campus for his first trip to the new offices in the Commodore hotel.

"You know there's eight major universities and nearly 200 small colleges, maybe more, within a 300 mile radius of Grandview. My library will be open to any qualified editor, writer, college or graduate student that wants to make use of it. It can be made a great cultural center in the Middle West, and that is what I hope it turns out to be. That's what I want to do next."

In an article accompanying the presidential quotation, the magazine says the library, to be called the Harry S. Truman Library, will contain private and official papers of his administration, books, memorabilia including the thousands of gifts which have come to the White House. The library will be set on a site which is part of the Truman family farm near Grandview where Truman lived for the 10 years preceding his World War I army service.

EXHIBITOR AT EVERY FAIR—J. A. Rau, route 4, on north 65 highway, has exhibited at every Missouri State Fair and up until this fair had 1,500 ribbons. He entered this year, too, in the agriculture and horticulture departments, but isn't sure how many ribbons he has added to his collection.

Son Strays Away, Leaves Mother Stranded at Fair

A mother and son from down south came to Sedalia Sunday to the Missouri State Fair, the son on the pretense of attending the races, the mother for company. The son disappeared during the evening and was not located until about noon Monday by Sedalia police.

The mother was calm through her ordeal, talking with state troopers about her predicament, she said she knew he had just "strayed" away. At midnight Sunday she was waiting in front of the Administration Building on the grounds, where state troopers found her. They found the family car parked on a parking lot, the doors all locked.

Later she was taken into the Administration Building, out of the chilly air, where Robert T. Thornburg, commissioner of agriculture, met her and discussed her problem. When it was evident the son wouldn't come back until late, Mr. Thornburg took the lady to his own room in the Administration Building and turned it over to her. He came into Sedalia to stay at the Bothwell Hotel.

Local police, on finding the man, took him to the police station and are holding him until late this afternoon before releasing him to take his mother back to their home.

Ike Opens His N.Y. Campaign Headquarters

NEW YORK (AP)—In buoyant spirits, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today opened his New York campaign headquarters — one of three he will maintain during his fight for the presidency.

"I feel fine, wonderful," the general declared as he left his residence on the Columbia University campus for his first trip to the new offices in the Commodore hotel.

All Glitter Now Litter At Fair Site

Soon the Clean-Up Will Be Complete And Beauty Returned

The fair is over, but oh! the aches that remain.

Those unaccustomed to the long hours, the rush and hustle of the fair week are nursing sore feet, sore legs and sore arms—they're weary from the loss of sleep, and "Oh My achin' back!"

Even for the old timers, who follow the fairs week-in and week-out, there are aches and pains, too, for this time was no routine. The tornado changed the regular schedule and added hours of labor to the usual efforts.

Monday the Missouri State Fair was not its beautiful self. Even the pretty flowers that Fair Florist Bob Lee nursed along so well, and were so pretty all week, seemed to have lost some of their brightness.

Instead of glitter, there was litter.

Scene In A Moss

Everywhere on the grounds today the scene was a mess. What with the normal tear-down that follows the exposition, and the trash that is left behind by the fairgoers the storm damage added its ugly remains for an unsightly scene.

Where thousands of gay pleasure-seekers roamed only yesterday is today in shambles. Papers, sacks, boxes, wrappers, broken boards, tree limbs, torn canvas, are everywhere.

The carnival is gone and most of the exhibits and concession stands have been removed. Workers are tearing down those few places that are left.

Elsewhere, the clean-up crews have started their tremendous task. It will be days before all the hundreds of truck loads of trash can be removed. That is the intention, however and before long, it will be difficult to see where the fair has been.

Grass Not Killed

Despite the rains that came during the week, the grass has been trampled and cut up as bad as might be expected. Parking lots are not in any worse condition than they were a year ago—and the grass came back for a generous carpet over the grounds before the recent fair got underway.

Cleaning up this year will take longer than usual because of the storm damage. Several big trees will have to be cut up and hauled away, and debris of two razed buildings will have to be cleared and many roofs and other parts of more buildings will have to be repaired.

Scavengers were having a great time Monday morning, trying to see if anything of value had been left in the spots where the exhibition had been removed, and seeing if any stand operator might have dropped a nickel or a dime in a rush to get away.

Attend Every Fair

Mrs. Alfred Brown, Ionia, returned the evening after she and Mr. Brown were married to the schoolhouse in Windsor where she taught, to supervise children's entertainment. They kept the secret of their marriage until morning.

Three years ago Mr. and Mrs. Brown celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary by preparing a dinner for 150 persons. Mr. Brown is 76 and Mrs. Brown, 84. They advise doing more than your share as a formula for marital success.

They have attended each of the 56 sessions of the Missouri State Fair and are amazed each year at the progress.

The couple has had no children, but took a boy to raise and educate. He is Walter Herr, now an electrician in Cameror.

When the Missouri State Fair first started, Mr. and Mrs. Brown used to drive to Greer Ridge and then catch the train to Sedalia. One of Mr. Brown's brothers, Glenn Brown, was gatekeeper at the fair this year. In 1862, when the county fair was held where Liberty Park is now, Mrs. Brown's father, J. N. Brown, and a brother, Davis Brown, were gatekeepers.

Two More at Every Fair

Here are two more persons who have attended all of the 56 Missouri State Fairs—Mrs. J. C. Connor, 414 East Seventh, Sedalia, and Judge Edward Callis, Hughesville. They were presented with Missouri Mule salt and pepper shakers by Don Cooper, publicity superintendent for the fair.

51 Treated Saturday

Fifty-one persons were treated at the hospital at the Missouri State Fair Saturday. There were no major or unusual cases.

Need Blood Donors

Pettis County's fighting men in Korea need blood donors. Those who will give can register with the Red Cross as donors for the mobile blood bank when it visits here Wednesday and Thursday. To date, with 200 needed each day, only 111 have signed up for Wednesday and 40 for Thursday.

Looking Backward

Twenty-five years ago Vincent Carroll, director of publicity for the Laclede Gas Company in St. Louis, a former Sedalian, was here attending the Missouri State Fair.

Four brothers, three of whom fought in the Civil War, met here in a family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Palmer, 901 South Vermont. Previously they had not been together for 57 years.

An old time automobile, Maxwell model of 1905, of the limousine type, was driven from St. Louis to Sedalia by C. C. Taylor, a painter and owner of the machine. It was a four-cylinder car with the body sitting high on the chassis. It had old style brass lamps and a square windshield like a window in a house. It was claimed it would do from 40 to 45 miles an hour.

A trio of Sedalia fishermen, Earl McKenzie, John Armstrong and Rance Gold, who spent several days fishing and camping at the mouth of Cole Camp Creek, near Cole Camp, returned, bringing with them 125 pounds of fish. This did not necessitate tail-fish stories to their friends as they produced the results.

The old Newman house, Hancock and Howard, was destroyed by fire. The house was one of the old landmarks in Sedalia and was owned by Theodore Hobercht for many years.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round Senators Spur Research In Desalting Sea Water

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

(NOTE TO EDITORS: While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several distinguished guest columnists, today's being Sen. Francis Case, Republican, South Dakota.)

CUSTER, S. D. — In his "Predictions of Things to Come" June 29, Drew Pearson spoke of "A discovery more important than the atomic bomb." "While the nation is worrying about the weather and the politicians are pulling wires," he said, "Congress passed an unnoticed bill Thursday, authorizing $2 million to transform sea water into fresh water. . . . To perfect an amazing discovery for making fresh water which will transform the arid deserts of California and the Southwest and make these areas bloom like the rose. . . . I also predict this invention when perfected will transform North Africa, Arabia and Australia so as to completely change the food problem of the world."

The bill passed was a substitute which I offered in the Senate for a similar bill passed in the House on motion of Rep. Clare Engle of California. Chief difference was that the revised bill provided for doing research by contract with institutions already in the field instead of establishing new government laboratories.

My interest in this subject developed out of an interest in "rain-making" and water conservation in general. In the Spring of 1951, three senate committees held a joint hearing on bills which Senator Anderson of New Mexico and I had introduced for research on "weather modification" and one which Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming had on converting sea water. We found far greater private activity in "rain-making" than any of us had realized. Over 13 times as many acres were under contract "cloud-seeding" operations in 1951 as were under irrigation.

So we developed a modified bill, S. 2253. It proposed simply a National Advisory Committee to evaluate results in private efforts.

Francisco and numerous other points along the Pacific coast.

L. E. Johnson, who conducted a barber shop on South Ohio for several years, sold it to Volle Moore.

"They Went Thataway"

Hal Boyle's Column— Editor Tells His Readers How He Feels About Having Cancer

NEW YORK (AP) — Some weeks ago A. P. Cooke, editor and publisher of the weekly Plant City (Fla.) Courier, learned some bad news about one of his readers.

The reader was himself. Should he print the news or keep silent? Cooke hesitated, then sat down and typed out his regular column, "Just Roaming."

"The word cancer is an ugly word," he began. "It is, to most folks, a cruel word, a despairing word because the very thought of it brings despair to anyone close to one so afflicted."

"I have just been told that I have a cancer in the tissues of the mouth, but I am not despairing."

"You see, medical people say that early detection is half the battle, and medical science has advanced rapidly in the treatment of this affliction."

Editor Cooke recalled wryly how often he, like his readers, had dropped a dime into the little boxes that appear on store counters during the American Cancer Society's annual drive—boxes that say: "Cancer strikes one of every five."

"I thought—if I ever gave it a thought—that I was one of the other four. But I was wrong."

"I have become a statistic . . . not altogether a pleasant thought."

Cooke then told his readers how a dentist had first noticed the Project Pygmalion By Grey MacMillan Copyright 1952 by NEA Service, Inc.

He left his truck parked at the curb with the motor idling.

I sat there on the sun-warmed granite shoulder abutting the massive steps of the Art Museum, my back to a marble lion, reading La Rochefoucauld's "Maxims."

He looked astonished, then accepted with such shyness and yet obvious delight that I felt like a heel, because I was feeling patronizing, and here he was—such a good guy.

We bailed my little rattletrap of a convertible out of the parking lot, and I drove home to the apartment which I shared with a brilliant young refugee interne named Karl Simon.

It must have been about a week later that I finally met him. I was standing in a movie line. I found I could forget Kathy quite satisfactorily for hours on end if I just had a movie to look at, so I took the habit of going to two and sometimes even three a day, never caring what the movie was about or who was in it.

I had built bookcases all over the place, with blank spaces here and there for bits of sculpture. Pictures everywhere—some of my own work and a few reproductions. And drapes of oatmeal-colored Indianhead.

KARL was at the hospital as usual; his working hours were inhuman. I handed David the Steichen book, put the record-player to work on the ballet music from "Faust," and went into the kitchen to mix drinks.

When I returned with the tray, he was staring around the room, with the same intent, longing look that he had in the picture gallery, as though he were trying to devour and memorize every object.

We discussed Lana Turner and new cars and cameras and power tools, and then I ran out of gas. I pointed out which was the bleu cheese and which the Gorgonzola, and refilled our glasses and wondered irritably how soon he'd leave, since I wanted to go to bed.

He said he'd been driving a truck ever since he was 18. Before that he busied dishes and worked about that house you—

"Sold it. Got my down payment back, though. So I wasn't out much money."

She sighed deeply. "Well, I can see you don't want to talk about it. I begin to realize what you must be going through. I wish I could help. But sometimes one can be healed of a suffering only by experiencing it to the fullest. After all, the best thing one can do when it is raining is to let it rain."

ARE YOU LOSING YOUR HEARING?

CHECK THESE DANGER SIGNS—IT MAY SAVE YOU A WORLD OF TROUBLE AND UNHAPPINESS

Do you have trouble understanding folks whom you used to hear clearly? Is it hard to hear the difference between fifteen and fifty—then and ten—life and knife, or other sound-alike words? Do you keep hearing noises—buzzing, humming, roaring etc? Do you feel a growing suspicion that folks are ridiculing you behind your back?

If you say "yes" to any of the above, you may already have a serious hearing loss. That's how deafness often comes creeping up so gradually you may be quite hard of hearing before you realize what is causing all your discomfort and inconvenience.

Why take chances? To acquaint the hard of hearing readers of this paper with what may be done to help the folks suffering from a hearing loss to hear again with startling clarity and ease Mr. V. G. Schwartz, well known hearing aid authority will be at Main Street Drug, Main and Ohio, Sedalia, on Wednesday, August 27th, from 1:00 till 5:00 p.m. He will test your hearing without charge and demonstrate the new tiny Beltone Hearing Aid—just released from the laboratories. Don't take chances. Remember the date. Consult Mr. Schwartz. No obligation. Cut out this article and bring with you.

Church Ceremony At Stover Unites Miss Della Nolting, M. J. Gillen

Miss Della Marie Nolting, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Nolting, Stover, became the bride of Mr. Marion F. Gillen, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Gillen, Cole Camp, at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, July 20, at the Christ Lutheran Church in Stover. The Rev. A. C. Zellinger performed the double ring ceremony before a chancel setting of white gladioli, ferns and burning white tapers in large candelabra.

Preceding the ceremony a brief interlude of organ music was played by Miss Mary Brauer. She accompanied Miss Evelyn New-gaard, who sang "Always" and "Through the Years" preceding the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" following the ceremony. The traditional wedding marches were used.

Miss Darleen Gillen, wearing a ballerina length gown of yellow taffeta, lighted the candles. Her wrist corsage was of white carnations.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a ballerina length gown of imported chantilly lace and nylon net. It was fashioned with a fitted bodice which buttoned down the back with tiny satin covered buttons. The long fitted sleeves tapered to a point at the wrist. Her bridal illusion veil was held in place with a heart-shaped crown of seed pearls and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Miss Waneta Kueck, maid of honor, wore a ballerina length gown of moss green taffeta and lace, with which she wore a matching headpiece. She carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations and stephanotis.

Miss Carolyn Young, flower girl, wore a ballerina length dress or orchid taffeta with matching headpiece. She scattered rose petals down the aisle.

Mr. Olen Montgomery served as best man. Ushers were Mr. Elroy Young and Mr. Dean Gillen.

Mrs. Nolting, mother of the bride, wore a navy blue dress with navy accessories. Mrs. Gillen, mother of the bridegroom, also wore a navy blue dress with matching accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church parlors with forty guests attending. A four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom adorned the lace covered table.

Serving at the reception were Mrs. Elroy Young, Miss Ruth Smith and Miss Joan Stucker. After the reception the couple left for a honeymoon through South Missouri, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

They will reside in Kansas City, Hayselet Drive, Jefferson City.

Blames HST For Present 'McCarthyism'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Richard Nixon said today "the way to get rid of so-called 'McCarthyism' is to elect a new administration."

And, he said, "I think 'McCarthyism' has been created by Truman. I believe it is the creature of Truman."

The California republican, his party's candidate for vice president, said that the term "means a lot of different things to different people."

"To the extent that the American people have been convinced that so-called 'McCarthyism' means smear, unfair charges, charges not based on fact, to that extent whoever has to carry the McCarthy issue will have a liability on its back."

Nixon's statements, made in a copyrighted interview with the magazine, U. S. News & World Report, added another chapter to the battle among Republicans and Democrats over Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin, who has been criticized severely by his opponents for his tactics in leveling charges of Communism among government employees.

Nixon has said that he will support McCarthy's bid for reelection, but that he does not necessarily share McCarthy's views.

The California senator, who also has been a prime mover in attacks against alleged Communists in the government, said he feels the administration "has not dealt effectively with the Communist issue in the United States."

And, he went on: "It is essential to get a new administration which will recognize the dangers and deal effectively with them."

He said that "to the extent that 'McCarthyism' means the exposure of individuals who needed to be exposed for the security of the country—I think the majority of the American people favor it."

Nixon contended that the administration of President Truman had not thrown its full weight behind a drive to ferret Communists out of the government.

"If that had been done," he said, "you would never have had 'McCarthyism.' I don't say that in extension of any mistakes McCarthy may or may not have made but I do say that to get rid of so-called 'McCarthyism' is to elect a new administration which will deal with this problem honestly, as has not been done up to this point."

The second accident was at 6:30 p. m. at Tenth and Limit. A 1951 Ford tudor sedan was traveling north, driven by William A. Anderson, Jefferson City, followed by an International pickup driven by W. B. Taylor, route 1, Fulton. When the line of traffic stopped suddenly, Taylor's truck struck the rear of Anderson's car. The front of the truck was damaged and the rear of the Ford smashed in.

Cause Humming
As air moves over telegraph wires on a clear, still winter day, a series of eddies develop, first on one side, then on the other. These eddies cause the wire to vibrate, like a violin string, and give the characteristic hum heard at such times. The vibrations then are transmitted with greatest force to the poles, which act as sounding boards.

'UnAmerican' To Call War 'Police Action'

NEW YORK (AP)—Donald R. Wilson, national commander of the American Legion, charged today that it is "an unAmerican approach to the facts" to call the war in Korea a "police action."

That is the term President Truman applied to the fighting there when it broke out in 1950.

Wilson said the nation has developed a "new, sophisticated, super-modern approach to honesty, diplomacy and world affairs."

Speaking at the opening session of the Legion's 34th annual convention, Wilson declared:

"We have in less than 10 years talked ourselves into the position of an international dupe of fantastic proportions."

He spoke shortly after reading a message from Truman urging the legion to "put all the facts before the people" in the present political campaign.

The legion head declared that the country has lost the truth of simplicity, become casual about honor in public office and laughs at thrift and hard work.

"We have gained the questionable credit for the loss of China," he said. "We have gained turmoil in the near and far East, scorn at the conference table from our most deadly and prized secrets with sickening regularity."

Referring to the so-called "police action" in Korea, he said, "The American people have become so baffled by this unAmerican approach to the facts, so amazed and emotionally deadened by one crisis after another, so involved in whirling around the world, that the war in Korea is no longer headline news."

The President's message was read at the opening of the Legion's 34th annual convention in Madison Square Garden.

Tornado Ruins Job, So He Gives Self Up to Cops
An Indiana youth, who gave himself up to the State Highway Patrol at Jefferson City because he thought he had "better off in jail" after his job was blown away in the State Fair tornado, is a free man after all.

Herman Otto Messmore, 20, walked into Troop F headquarters there Friday night and said he wanted to "give himself up."

Under surprise questioning by Trooper Harry H. Wells, the youth explained that he was wanted in Indiana for forgery and failure to report for induction.

He said he had a job at the fair i Sedalia but lost it when the tornado Thursday ruined the place where he worked.

"I think I'll better off in an Indiana jail," he said.

But a check with Indiana authorities Saturday revealed that the selective service board had no quarrel with the youth. The authorities said the youth did escape from the Plainsfield Boy's School last October but that he wasn't wanted now.

'Scottsboro Boy' Writer Dies While Serving Sentence
JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—The death in prison of Heywood Patterson, one of the South's famed "Scottsboro boys," was announced today by Southern Michigan Prison authorities.

The 39-year-old Patterson died Friday night of cancer, authorities said. He was serving a six to 15 year term for manslaughter.

The Georgia-born negro, whose book "Scottsboro Boy" gained him a new measure of fame in 1949, had been in Michigan since he fled from prison in Alabama in 1948.

There he was serving a 75-year sentence growing out of the "Scottsboro" case in 1931, in which nine negroes were convicted of raping two white women in a freight car.

Suggests Street In Area Be Named For Bunker Hill

A bit of the history of Bunker Hill is given in the article written by J. Theodore Thomas, 116 West Seventh, a member of the Thomas family who owned the land. The article follows:

So many people and children have lamented the passing of Bunker Hill, now known as Circle Drive. It came into the possession of my father, the late C. A. Thomas, in 1898, and at that time was known as part of the old Kite Shape Track.

In 1900 the boulevard was cut through for the Fairgrounds and it became known then as Bunker Hill. The first activity out there was the Home Guards' target practice on the west side of Bunker Hill. Capt. James the commanding officer. We boys used to go and pick up the lead bullets used in target practice, some flat, some long.

At the time we purchased the land there were no trees on it. Often we have seen where the children had dug holes, made caves, picked wild cherries, persimmons, and built huts to play in. The children who played there when we were children are grandfathers and grandmothers and now their grandchildren are playing there. Half of Sedalia knew Bunker Hill as a place to play, slide down the hill and climb over it.

As one of the family, I regretted to see it go because of the children, but suggest one of the streets be named Bunker Hill Street.

Dom Perlick Wins in Fair's 125-Mile Race

Dom Perlick, Minneapolis, Minn., in car No. 3, pulled in under the checkered flag three car lengths in front of his nearest rival to take first place and the $500 purse in the 125-mile stock car race at the Missouri State Fair Sunday afternoon. The 125-mile grind took one hour, 59 minutes and 42.92 seconds to complete.

Perlick and Pat Kirkwood, Ft. Worth, Tex., during the first 78 laps battled for the lead, with Kirkwood leading the pack of 21 cars during that time. A pit stop was made and Richard McDaniel, Ft. Worth, took over the wheel, while the car was being serviced and Perlick took over the lead by two laps on Kirkwood's car. In the 81st lap the Ft. Worth car pulled into the pits with burned out rods.

A Track Battle of Speed

The race then developed between Perlick and Ernie Derr, Ft. Madison, Ia. During the remaining laps the lead changed back and forth with Perlick finally jumping into the lead on the 122nd lap and he kept a heavy foot on the throttle to pull across the line three car lengths ahead of Derr. Perlick was driving a 1950 Oldsmobile and Derr a 1952 Oldsmobile.

Kirkwood had the fastest time trials, making the mile oval in 51.97 seconds. Ernie Derr was second in the trials with a time of 53.08. However, both drivers in a check during the main race circled the oval in much faster time, Kirkwood having a 51.03 and Derr a 51.84.

During the time trials Herbie Thomason, driving a Henry J, turned over on the south curve, demolishing the car. The front end seemed to have buckled when he went into the curve, causing the driver to lose control of the machine. He was taken to the hospital in an unconscious condition but soon was revived. He returned to the infield with friends to sit on the sidelines to watch his brother racing drivers grind out the feature event.

Race Is Restarted

At the opening of the race so much dust was stirred on the south curve that cars began running into each other. Two were disabled and the race was stopped. It was started again after the track was cleared and got under way in a blaze of glory. From time to time cars were wrecked, one going through the meshed wire fence, the driver being Short Eberts, Kansas City. Several others then went out when axles crystallized and broke; others had tires to blow out. On the 122nd lap Gil Russell, Kansas City, Kan., driving a 1947 Hudson, flipped over on the inside fence on the north end of the oval. He was not injured. He was credited with sixth place money.

Marv Copple, Lincoln, Nebr., bank executive, who was a favorite, ended in 11th place when his car blew a tire on the east straightaway and had to get out of the race.

The cars were placed in the winning brackets in accordance with the laps they had made after the winning car had crossed the finish line at 125 miles. The late disabled cars still won monies.

The car driven by Perlick was found to be strictly "stock" this morning when the motor was torn down and inspected at the Routsong Motor Co. The car was inspected in accordance with protest made by other drivers that the car was "souped up." Gaylord White, promoter of the race for the Missouri State Fair, ordered the car impounded immediately after the race and held at the Routsong Motor Co.

Winners of the feature event were (car number in parentheses): (3) Dom Perlick, Minneapolis, 1950 Olds, first; (2) Ernie Derr, Fort Madison, Ia., 1952 Olds, second; (8) Ralph Dyer, Shreveport, La., third; (4) Chris Skadal, Des Moines, Ia., fourth; (10) Bob McIlrath, Waterloo, Ia., fifth; (18) Gil Russell, Kansas City, Kan., sixth; (12) Harold Hobbs, Grinnell, Ia., seventh; (14) Fred South, Salina, Kan., eighth; (20) Art Proffitt, Kansas City, Mo., ninth; (15) Eddie Anderson, Grinnell, Ia., tenth; (9) Marvin Copple, Lincoln, Nebr., eleventh; (17) Ken Stotlar, Davenport, Ia., twelfth.

Cards vs. Bums Twice Today In Big Series

By The Associated Press
The St. Louis Cardinals take on the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers twice in a day-night doubleheader today in their make-or-break series with their arch rivals.

After winning eight consecutive games, the Cards let down their guard and were ambushed 10-4 by the Brooks Sunday in the series opener, playing before 34,934, the largest single-game crowd at Sportsman's Park in 15 years.

That left the pennant-ambitious Redbirds two percentage points ahead of the New York Giants and eight and a half games out of first.

Gerry Staley and Harvey Hadix drew the pitching assignments for the Cardinals today. They were to face Billy Loes and John Ruthenford of Joe Landrum.

Brooklyn slipped across three runs in each of the first two innings Sunday, knocking out starter Joe Presko, and then continued to score against Cloyd Boyer and Mike Clark.

Leading the 14-hit Dodge assault were outfielder George Shuba, who drove in three runs with a home run and a single, and Duke Snider, who had a homer and two singles.

Preacher Roe recorded his 10th straight victory over the Cards, but not without some difficulty. He was nailed for 10 hits, including a home run by Del Rice, and was knocked out in the eighth. Reliever Joe Black retired the five Cardinals he faced.

In Boston, the Red Sox downed the Browns 2-1 in 10 innings and then overwhelmed them 12-1. In the opener the Sox filled the bases with none out in the 10th and Dick Gernert scored the deciding run on a punt by Manager Lou Boudreau. Satchel Paige was pitching at the time but the defeat was charged to Marlin Stuart.

The Red Sox staged an eight-run uprising in the fifth inning of the second game, chasing starter Bob Hogue and reliever Cliff Fannin before Stuart came in to the mayhem.

Pitchers' Battle as Chiefs Meet Moberly Here Tuesday

Another pitchers' battle, like two they have had already this year, is shaping up for Bobby Brown of Sedalia and Iverson of Moberly. Their teams meet here Tuesday night for the first game of a best three of five playoff for the championship of the Central Missouri Ban Johnson League.

Brown and Iverson have each won in their previous meetings and they will be on the mound in this all-important battle between the first and last half season champs.

Backing up both hurlers will be the pick of the two teams' regulars who have helped put their teams into the title series. Sedalia should have a crowd on hand to back the Chiefs in this opening tilt, and then should have another large delegation to help the team when the third game of the series is played here Thursday night. The Wednesday game will be at Moberly.

Fielding Has Kept Leaders In Top Spots

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Know what's keeping the Yankees and Dodgers in first place? Pitching? No. Hitting? No. Okay, we'll tell you. It's the fielding — just plain old-fashioned defense.

Before the start of the season those who picked New York and Brooklyn to snap the pennants predicted the Yankees would win on their pitching and the Dodgers would cop on their hitting.

Today, with fewer than 40 days to go, the Dodgers own a comfortable 8½-game bulge over the St. Louis Cardinals in the National League race and the Yankees have a two-game edge on the Cleveland Indians in the American.

And it hasn't been the Dodger hitting nor the Yankee pitching. At present it doesn't appear that either club will have a 20-game winner this year. The Brooks trail the Cardinals in team hitting but they lead both leagues in team fielding.

By completing a double play Sunday in routing the Cardinals 10-4, to snap St. Louis' eight-game winning streak, they broke a league record, completing a twin killing in their 19th consecutive game.

The Yankees trail Washington and the Chicago White Sox by one point in the American with a team fielding percentage of .979, but are far and away in front in double plays in both leagues with 152.

They failed to complete a twin killing yesterday as they came from behind to nip the Detroit Tigers, 4-2, and pick up a full game on the Indians, who dropped a 16-inning, 9-8 marathon to the Senators in Washington.

Two ninth-inning Giant errors gave Cincinnati two unearned runs and a 5-4 first game decision. The Giants managed to get a split in the doubleheader, winning the second game, halted at the end of seven innings by darkness, 6-3.

Boston's third-place Red Sox moved up to within four games of the Yankees, sweeping a pair from the St. Louis Browns, 2-1 in 10 innings and 12-1, Philadelphia's Athletics, divided a doubleheader with the White Sox. The A's came back to cop the second game, 5-1 after the White Sox had taken an 11-7 opening slugfest.

The Philadelphia Phillies and Chicago Cubs split a twin bill as did Pittsburgh and the Boston Braves. The Phils swamped the Cubs, 14-4, after a 3-0 Chicago triumph. The Braves took a 10-inning 3-3 win after Pittsburgh won the opener, 4-3.

The National Boxing Association sanctioned the tourney to find an interim feather king while the New York batter is doing his fighting for Uncle Sam.

The winner of Monday night's Boston Garden 15 - rounder will meet the victor in the Panama bout between Percy Bassett of Philadelphia and Frederick Plummer of Panama.

Those two finalists battle for the duration American crown with the winner meeting France's Ray Famechon for the duration world championship.

Improving Income Through Better Cattle Seen In Results of Sales Here Annually

County Agent Studies Price Paid Year Ago

By Roy I. Copen,
County Agent

Some possibility of improvement in income by improving the quality of cattle in Pettis County is shown by a study of the varieties in prices received for cattle at the Feeder Cattle Sale held last year.

I have studied the price range of the 112 lots sold. As smaller cattle of the same quality bring more per pound in seven divisions based on weights were made for the study.

The calves weighing 201 to 300 pounds ranged in price per pound from 42½ to 53½ cents. The group weighing 301 to 400 pounds ranged in price from 40½ to 26½ cents. The group weighing 401 to 500 pounds sold from 38 to 26½ cents.

On the larger cattle the spread was as follows. The lots weighing 501 to 600 pounds sold for 38 cents a pound down to 28 cents. The lots weighing 601 to 700 pounds sold for 36 cents down to 27½ cents. The lots weighing 701 to 800 pounds sold for 33 cents down to 28½ cents. The lots weighing 801 to 900 pounds sold for 32½ cents down to 28 cents and those weighing 901 and less than 1,000 pounds brought 33 to 25½ cents.

We see down the line that there was a 9 cent spread per pound in the 201 to 300 pound calves. In the other respective groups the spread was 13½ cents; 11½ cents; 10 cents; 8½ cents; 4 cents; 4½ cents and 7½ cents.

A little further analysis shows more interesting facts. Let's take the group weighing 401 to 500 pounds. Suppose we call these calves 450 pounders. Early spring calves sired by a blocky well bred bull and out of good cows will attain this weight by late September. This without grain too. A 450 calf at 38 cents a young brings $171.00 while one selling for 26½ cents bring $119.25—a difference of $51.75.

Even when the price of cattle is less than this there is a substantial difference in the price. Assuming that this difference is 8 cents we get $36.00 more for the high quality calf. On 20 calves this means $720.00. Now some points on what makes the difference is quality calves. The following are contributing factors—quality of the dam and sire, winter feed to the cow, ability of the cow to furnish an adequate milk supply, quality and quantity of pasture accessible to the cow and calf. Fly control may make an appreciable difference.

Since it may be necessary to work with the cows you have you may find yourself limited to the other items of improvement. You may want to check up and see if you are using a bull that is superior to your cows. If not you are not progressing as rapidly as is economically possible. Selling our present bull and adding $100.00 or $200.00 to his selling price for a good blocky type bull that comes from a herd that has the ability of getting good weight per age would be a forward step. You, of course, will want a registered bull with type but you don't have to buy a show bull or one sired by a prize winner. While such a bull may give you some degree of satisfaction yet those alone will not pay the big dividends that a less showy bull with ability to sire calves that gain weight rapidly on pasture.

ONE HORSE'S POWER BEATS ONE HORSEPOWER — "Clayton," mighty Percheron used in the hauling league. A contest was arranged between Clayton and "Tuffy," a new two-wheeled, one-horsepower tractor for home gardeners. Clayton can pull a load of 5000 pounds, but Tuffy's best was only 300 pounds. So, dividing the one-horsepower tractor's 500 into the horse's 5000 gives Clayton a rating of 10 horsepower. Only satisfaction the tractor folk had was to point out that it's easier to keep a small tractor in a city garage than an 1800-pound Percheron. Photo shows Clayton, driven by Harry DeBock, outhauling Tuffy, driven by Bob Bricker. Supervising the race is Patrolman Robert A. Paisley.

Balanced Farming Notes—

Entomologist Will Speak Here On How to Fight Grasshoppers

By Merle Vaughan

The large number of grasshoppers has us worried about how our new seedlings of pasture, alfalfa and on terrace outlets will fare.

Because of this we have asked our Extension Entomologist, Mr. Sterling Kyd, to give us the "dope" on how to "treat" them. That information will be given at a meeting to be held in the assembly room of the courthouse Wednesday night, Aug. 27, and starting at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Kyd expects to come to Pettis County about 2 o'clock that afternoon to look over the situation ahead of the meeting.

McClure Uses Farrowing Crates
Stevens McClure of Sedalia Route 3 was showing me the modified farrowing crates that he had used with his sows this summer. They worked almost perfectly, he said, with his only losses being pigs that were over laid outside the houses.

The original farrowing crates, Mr. McClure said, really kept the sows up close. His plans were obtained from Iowa State College and allow the sow to work back and forth across the house. This system allows two sows in an 8' by 8' house so takes only half the usual space. Also one pig brooder will take care of 2 litters so provides economical use of house, brooder and electricity.

Root Builds Stock Tank
When the pigs get a little older Steve rigs pens outside the doors so the sows can back out of the crates and walk around outside. All the losses suffered by over-ture.

If your pasture program is weak you will find soil treatment based on laboratory tests will pay good dividends. Casteration, dehorning, fly control are among other features of good management that will help you produce calves that make you extra net profits.—R. I. C.

laying were experienced out in these pens.

I stopped by the Paul Root farm northwest of La Monte recently to see the concrete stock tank that Paul built there a few days ago. The tank is located below the dam of a farm pond that will soon be rebuilt. When this is done most of the tank will be covered with earth. The part of the tank that will be underground has been covered with concrete slabs and a retaining wall of concrete blocks has been built across the tank at that point so water will not fall in the open end of the tank.

Removable forms designed by the local Farm Bureau office were used in pouring the concrete tank. An overflow pipe with a small hole near the top takes enough cold water off the top of the tank to keep it from freezing even in zero weather. The over flow leads to the water off underground so no muddy place is left next the tank.

Singer Plans Pasture Improvement
While at the Charles Singer farm north west of Sedalia recently to put some finishing touches on his water management plan I helped him take soil samples on a field that he plans to seed to permanent meadow and pasture this fall.

That was on Thursday and Saturday afternoon I mailed out the report on the completed test. Tests are important because without them you may put on more fertilizer than you need or worse put on something you don't need and leave off something you do need. A test costs only 75 cents to $1.00. Farm Bureau member or $1.00 to others and might save 50 to 100 dollars in the wrong fertilizer on a large field.

Fields probably ought to be re-tested every 3-5 years to see how the fertility level is coming and quite a few folks have tested several of their fields a second and even a third time.

Shepherd Seeding Pasture
Ray Shepherd stopped by the office the other day to ask a question about the 15 acres of pasture that he is improving this fall. The field is an old permanent pasture and Ray said some of it was a rock rocky. He has treated it with rock phosphate, plowed it on the contour and will seed it soon. He is already making plans to reseed another old pasture next fall.

Dohrman Will Seed Outlets Soon
Forrest Dohrman of Sweet Springs was in the office Saturday to discuss seeding his 3 terrace outlets as soon as possible. The seeding rate is 30 pounds each of red top and timothy per acre. I told Forrest that in preparing

Still Accepting Consignments For Big Sale Here

Consignments are still being accepted for the two-day feeder cattle sale to be held Sept. 20 and 22.

Those consigning will have their steers or heifers, ranging from weaned calves up to yearlings and past, graded and sold in lots of other cattle of similar breed, sex and quality.

This is a cooperative enterprise designed to improve the quality of cattle produced in the area. Selling cattle in this manner, the producer has the assurance of competing bidding as buyers like these sales and come from other states to bid cattle to feed that come directly from the farms.

The seller also has the advantage of selling on weight when unloaded, low selling cost. Also if he wants to feed a uniform lot but has a mixed group as to age, size, quality or breed he can sell and buy what he wants at the market price.

The association is a non-profit organization operating at actual cost.

Maid in Home Where Two Sons Have Polio Is Victim of Disease

MOBERLY (P)—Mrs. Lorane Allen, 25, an employee in the home of Mrs. Cecilia Sasek in Moberly, has been hospitalized in Columbia for treatment of polio.

Previously, Mrs. Sasek's two sons, Johnny, 6, and Steven, 3, had been stricken by the disease. They also are in the University Hospital at Columbia.

These outlets for seeding that we had found it best to spread the top dressing of fertilizer on top of the ground either with a drill, fertilizer spreader or by hand. Then we broadcast the seed and harrow them both in with a "snake dance" pattern back and forth across the outlet.

One important practice is to put in the cross berms the same day the outlet is seeded so there will be no chance for a shower to come up overnight and gully the new outlet.

Poultry Can Always Show Some Profits

Some say poultry makes no profit. Others say as did Carl Johnson of Green Ridge "that our flock always make some profit and we have the records to prove it".

We do not believe every farmer should produce eggs or poultry meats for sale. However, if there is a need on the farm for an intensive enterprise poultry is worth investigating. If there is a need for week-to-week income you can get it from eggs. Even with these needs you must like to work with poultry to make a success.

But back to the question. A laying flock handled right is profitable. Our poultry Extension Specialist at the University of Missouri gives us the following facts. Iowa figures covering a 16 year period show poultry returned a higher income per $100.00 worth of feed than any other type of livestock. Illinois records covering 17 years show the same thing.

Our specialist states a nine year record of some of the top record keeping flocks in Missouri shows an average of 306 layers per farm and an average production of 218 eggs per hen. Full production through October, November and December was 57 per cent. The income above feed cost for this group of flocks was $4.34 per hen. And a return of $1.83 was received for each one dollar's worth of feed fed.

It should be remembered that the top record flocks in the state were three to four times larger than the average size flock. In addition, the hens laid approximately five to seven more eggs per bird and the eggs were marketed on a quality market at a premium of five to six cents per dozen above market price. Such flocks produced incomes for their owners of from six to eight times above that from the average Missouri flock.

What about return on labor with poultry? The University of Missouri poultry specialist point out that Indiana records show the labor income return is influenced greatly by the size of the flock. Flocks of from 120 birds and below returned 33 cents per hour labor. Flocks of from 120 to 240 birds returned 56 cents per hour labor and flocks of 240 birds and above returned $1.36 per hour.

In other words, a flock of 100 to 150 hens does not return enough income to bring in a good hourly income. On the other, with good management, flocks of 300 to 500 birds and up will return a good labor income. Poultrymen who

Steelville Has Curfew to Keep Youths off Streets

STEELVILLE, Mo. (P)—Steelville has a new curfew law to keep children under 16 off the streets after 10 o'clock each night.

The mayor signed the bill, passed by the aldermen, Saturday. He said it was intended to reduce pilfering of tires and radios from automobiles and recent minor acts of vandalism.

Children accompanied by their parents or a guardian, or those on business errands, and those attending movies or church affairs are exempt under the law.

Residents were warned not to mistake the curfew whistle for the town's fire alarm.

The New York State unemployment insurance law exempts concerns with fewer than four employees from mandatory coverage. Non-profit religious, charitable, scientific, literary and educational groups also are exempt.

have changed from small flocks of 100 to 200 birds to flocks of from 300 to 1,000 birds often comment they can care for this number by means of labor saving equipment as easily as they could care for the small flock using old methods of management.

If you are in doubt as to the return from your laying flock why not keep records? The 1932-33 record keeping year starts on September 1. If you want these record blanks we will be glad to furnish the blanks and explain the University of Missouri poultry record keeping program. — R.I.C.

Unwed Mother Said To Have Burned Her Baby to Death

RICHMOND, Mo. (P)—Prosecutor Dick B. Dale says he will file first degree murder charges today against a 20-year-old unwed mother accused of setting her baby son afire shortly after his birth Friday.

The child died of burns the following day. Authorities said he had been wrapped in paper, put in a cardboard box and set afire. Dale said the woman has another child.

He identified her as Virginia Lee Bright. She was charged with attempted murder on Friday, before the infant's death, and released under $5,000 bond.

The prosecutor said the woman gave birth to the baby unassisted at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Bright.

Baby Smothered On Mother's Arm

ST. LOUIS (P)—A nine-week-old girl smothered to death while sleeping on the arm of her mother Sunday, police reported.

She was Marie Clannin, daughter of Mrs. Bethel Clannin, who told police the baby fell asleep on her arm after a 4 a. m. feeding.

The Mississippi River surface between dikes at New Orleans is normally about 3 feet above sea level and above the average level of the city's streets.

Man May Be Losing Battle With Insects

WASHINGTON (P)—Man may be losing his age-old battle against insects.

In the foreword of a new 952-page Agriculture Department yearbook entitled, "Insects," Secretary of Agriculture Brannan calls the situation "disturbing."

He wrote: "We have more insect pests, although we have better insecticides to use against them and better ways to fight them."

Brannan blamed foreign pests which slip through U. S. quarantines for part of the trouble.
